Opportunities

Training Opportunities for Employed Workers

As an employer, you want to grow your people and your business. Although providing personal development opportunities is a desirable benefit to offer, it is still difficult for many small businesses with limited budgets to do so alone.

Your local One-Stop Career System receives state funding annually to provide such training opportunities for the employees of small businesses in your area.

If you would like to provide training opportunities to your employees, please contact us. Our multiple funding sources or referrals may pay for part, or all of your costs, if the training provided leads to a wage increase, or a promotion.

Our staff of employment specialists will complete all the paperwork, determine the appropriate funding source to meet your needs and handle all the headaches.
